9th July 2021 (OTC: COSG) – Hong Kong – Marvel's digital graphic artist Bosslogic and Swiss Luxury watch manufacturer Quinting have decided to join forces to produce the one and only Coinollectibles Triple Crossover Watch Fusion NFT.

Being one of only 25 Swiss watch movement manufacturers, Quinting is a pioneer in the watchmaking industry with exceptional technology. Quinting was the first to use sapphire crystal to manufacture a watch movement to create a completely transparent wristwatch. Until today, Quinting is still one of the very rare watch manufacturers using a sapphire movement. Apart from the state-of-the-art technology, the high-quality workmanship of the watch makers is also the key for Quinting to produce their aesthetic timepieces. Every Quinting watch is crafted by hand at the manufacturing facility in Geneva, Switzerland.

Depicted as a peace symbol, Quinting's famous "The Dove of Geneva" collection is known as "the watch of presidents". Many political leaders are the owners of "The Dove of Geneva", including the former US president Bill Clinton and the former UN president Joseph Deiss. Quinting watches are sought after by different celebrities from the arts and sports fields, such as the Russian TV star Tina Kandelaki and the US pitcher Roger Clemens.

Kode Abdo, the graphic artist from Melbourne, Australia, is the founder and artist behind the Instagram account Bosslogic that has over 2 million followers. Bosslogic has created official posters for different blockbuster movies, including Marvel's Avengers and Disney's live-action remake of Aladdin. Besides producing movie posters, Bosslogic also customized digital artworks for celebrities such as Dwane Johnson, 'The Rock'.

For this partnership, Bosslogic will provide the graphic design, whilst Quinting will incorporate it into the watch. Coinllectibles will mint the watch into a Fusion NFT, creating the unique triple crossover – the "Bosslogic X Quinting X Coinllectibles" Fusion NFT.

The minted Fusion NFT will provide ownership title to the watch, which unless previously sold will be displayed in Coinllectibles Fusion NFT-art gallery at the Victoria Dockside, home also to K11 Musea, in one of the most prestigious art real-estate in Hong Kong. For pre-purchase inquiries on this rare "Bosslogic X Quinting X Coinllectibles" Fusion NFT, please visit Coinllectibles website.

"This Triple Crossover is creating history, a marriage of modern graphic art, traditional century old luxury watch making, and the most advanced Fusion NFT." Said Pascal Berclaz, CEO of Quinting.

"It will be my mission to take the breath away from every person looking at this rare transparent watch, which ownership is secured in a Coinllectibles Fusion NFT." Said Kode Abdo, Founder of Bosslogic.

“I am so excited and anxious to see the watch. Coinllectibles is really honoured to bring Bosslogic and Quinting together to create such a rare and collectible Fusion NFT watch.” Said Nancy Wong, Chief Asset Officer of Coinllectibles.

About Quinting

The Swiss watch Manufacture Quinting SA is the elite of the watch-making industry, the very small circle of watch brands that produce their own movements. Quinting’s movement stemmed from the desire to see time told through hands floating on a watch wearer’s wrist. With the state-of-the-art technology and advanced techniques, Quinting is able to produce 100% transparent watches. Many political leaders and celebrities are the owners of the Quinting’s watches.
